DEDICATION

IN the month of November of the past year, Spring Hill lost its Professor Emeritus and its truly great Historian. The true value of a school is measured by the worth of its teachers. Fr. Kenny was a splendid teacher, and gave some of the best years of his life to class room lectures at the "Hill." Institutions may fare with their historians as men with their biographers: they may be fortunate or unfortunate in the one that falls to their lot. Fr. Kenny was a true historian. The "Torch on the Hill," his centenary story of Spring Hill College, is a classic of history and literature.

Fr. Kenny's funeral was attended by the Spring Hill Student Body—the largest in its history. Of those present, probably not five per cent had known Fr. Kenny personally. Whether veteran or non-veteran, they gathered to honor one whom they did not know. Few, if any, realized the true greatness of the pioneer at whose grave they came to pray. Here was the passing of an older era, and the beginning of a new.

We dedicate this 1947 Annual to Fr. Michael Kenny, S.J., in the hope that it may help present Spring Hill students to realize the added obligation that devolved upon them when this great man died. A flaming torch has been thrown, from failing hands, to YOU. May it be yours to ever hold it high!

winding gulf and bay on the east and the distant horizon purpling the rim of south and west, prints an impress on imagination and mind and memory that forms an ennobling supplement to text and teachings, and has an educational value that reacts on frame and sense in pleasing and permanent benefit.

It was the superior hunting advantages of Spring Hill that attracted some of the most prominent sportsmen of the country. Mr. Byrne of Chicago, son of the founder of the College, and his family, often stay throughout the summer months for its hunting. For the same reason Miss Eleanor Fitch, who has her home on the borders of the College grounds, and whose acquaintance with the College induced Mr. Byrne to contribute to her training, and at every crisis to proffer generous sums, which the Byrne Memorial Library is the culminating instance of her other benefactions, Miss Fitch, who has had acquaintance with Northern schools, has for years been providing Spring Hill for students of her own gathering from North and South.

Spring Hill is confident that the extension of such acquaintance will have like beneficent results. She looks back upon her century-old traditions and looks down upon her Cemetery slabs; and, reading the names of the noble men who sacrificed for her their consecrated lives, and left in their virtues and merits a richer legacy than monetary endowments, she knows by the potency of their heavenly pleading, that these also God will provide. She has faith that the torch they lit and handed down ten decades in full glow will not lose its lustre now, and that Providence, Who, kept it for a century alight, will still provide fuel for its flames.

Rt. Rev. T. J. Toolen, D.D., Bishop of Mobile, May 7, 1930

DEARLY BELOVED BRETHREN IN CHRIST:

The celebration this month by a Catholic College of One Hundred Years of service in our Diocese makes it timely to address you on a subject we have had in mind since the Holy Father charged us with your spiritual care: THE CHRISTIAN EDUCATION OF YOUTH. Believing this basic duty of parents to be the most fundamental and fruitful factor in civic as in religious progress, we deem the Centenary of Spring Hill College, an institution so dear to the Founder and all the Bishops of this See, a most appropriate occasion to impress upon you, with all the force at our command, the vital Catholic importance of complete Christian education.

Consider, in this regard, the Divine Commission on which God's Church and her activities for all time are founded, the last command of the Ascending Christ to His chosen Apostles, and in them to the Head and the Bishops of His Church for ever:

"Going, therefore, teach ye all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and behold I am with you all days even to the ending of the world."

Here, in His last solemn utterance on earth, in His final will to the world as the God of all power, Jesus Christ commits that power to His authorized ministers, and He promises that in its exercise over all men He will be with them in all ways, all days, and all time. This universal "all" means Catholic, its Greek equivalent; and He gave them this alness of Catholic power for one specific purpose, to teach; and to teach the Catholicity of all truth to all.

Now, His divinely enlightened infallible Church soon realized that the teaching of all things He had commanded traversed far wider ranges than merely dogmatic truths; that it embraced all the rational actions of men in all their human activities. Peter found his Rock assailed by the powers of earth and hell, and so did the apostles and disciples, sustaining that Rock with him and by that Rock sustained.

The first three commandments, prescribing the worship of the

THE COLLEGE CHORUS

Music has always been considered an integral part of a Liberal Arts college. At Spring Hill the College Chorus carried on the torch of Music and continued an old tradition. This year the Chorus practised often and perseveringly, and by the end of the year had worked up to a position of excellence. Numerous college functions, banquets, broadcasts, and finally commencement were enlivened and graced by the rich harmonies of the Chorus. With Fred Waring the members of the Chorus became convinced that "the song is the thing." The bond of fellowship sealed in song will not soon be forgotten at Spring Hill.

*Raise your voices, sing her praises;
Field and forest fill.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail to thee, Spring Hill.*

THE COLLEGE CHOIR

The full beauty and splendor of the Roman Catholic liturgy is largely dependent upon a choir trained to sing the official music of the Church, Gregorian Chant. This year the College Choir, following the ideals of the "Motu Proprio" of Pope Pius X, built up a repertoire of Gregorian chants for use at the several Solemn High Masses during the year. Every Sunday at the Student Mass the Choir sang hymns—music intended to inspire devotion and make Springhillians love the House of God.

*There let the pealing organ blow,
To the full-voiced choir below,
In service high and anthems clear,
As may with sweetness, through mine ear,
Dissolve me into ecstacies,
And bring all Heaven before mine eyes.*

VETERANS CLUB

Since the college student body is well sprinkled with ex-G. I.'s, it is therefore not unusual that a Veterans Club should be organized on the campus. The idea was conceived during the latter part of the '46 semester, although active organization did not begin until the '46-'47 school year.

With a purpose of promoting the social and academic welfare of its members the club began active organization in September '46.

On the social side the Vets held several semi-formal dances during the school year and on the academic front members were given scholastic aid from men within their own ranks. In addition, arrangements were made with local employment authorities to assist club members in locating part-time jobs to supplement the subsistence checks. The group has been very active about the campus and has enjoyed a most successful year.

SIGMA ALPHA KAPPA

Theta Alpha Chapter, organized two years ago, affiliated itself with Sigma Alpha Kappa of Loyola University in New Orleans. During the school year the SAK's continued to flourish and expand by initiating three groups of pledges, which greatly boosted its membership and placed it among the largest organizations on the Campus. Besides its size, SAK has the distinction of being one of the most active organizations at Spring Hill. They opened the school year in September with a dance honoring the new students. The members enjoyed a Christmas party held in the fraternity room, before the holidays. In the early part of May a banquet was held, at which time Miss Ann Robinson was named Sweetheart and the Misses Mary Jo Mento and Charlotte McGraw were named sponsors. The fraternity has enjoyed a most pleasant social year and has many plans for the coming year.

PHI OMEGA

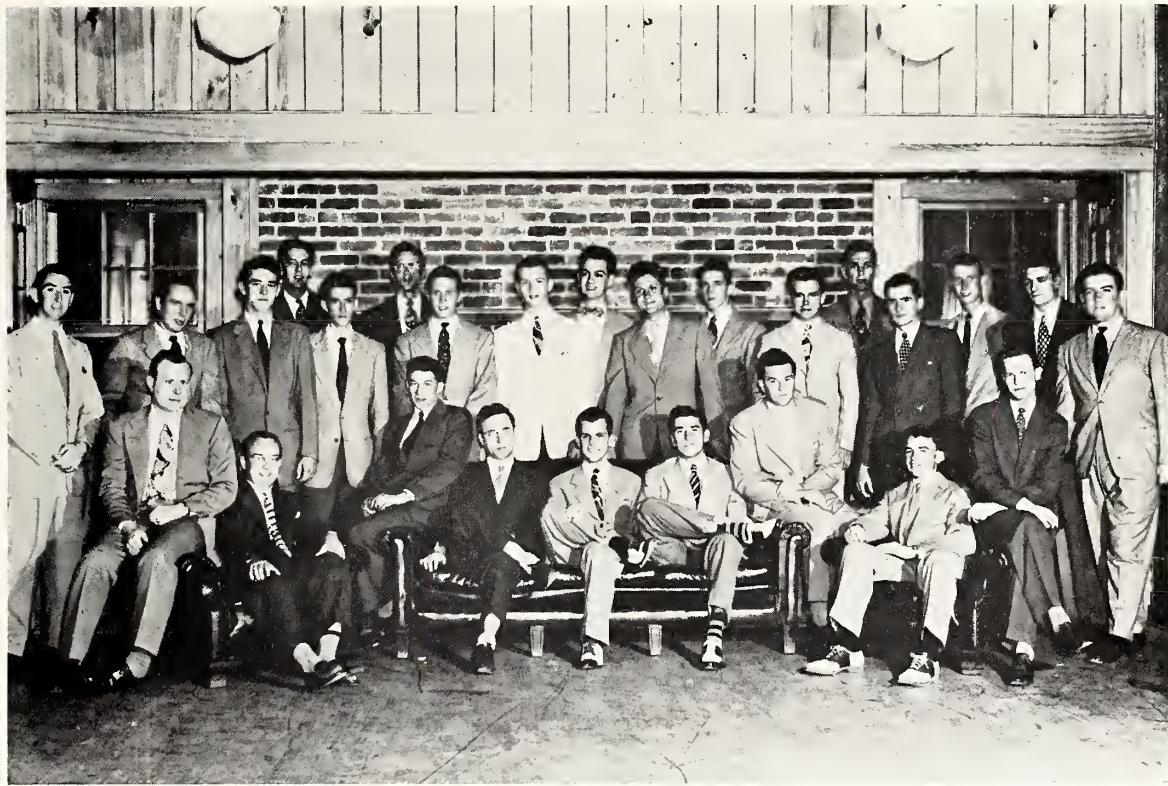

Forced into inactivity during the recent war years, Phi Omega was reactivated this year by some of its former members who have returned to the campus.

Under the able leadership of Lubin Mire, Joe Paniello, Dick Lott, and Floyd Roell and a host of very active members, the "Phi O's" have given an added boost to the campus social life by starting things off with an intermission party during the Veterans Dance. They followed up with a series of parties, a banquet, and ended up the year with a gala Spring Dance at the Pan American Club where Miss Katherine Toomey was elected "Sweetheart" for the coming year.

Founded on this campus in 1923, Phi Omega is rapidly regaining its pre-war status of being one of the most active social organizations on the Spring Hill campus.

OMICRON SIGMA

This Fraternity has the distinction of being the oldest active on the campus. The members enjoyed a Christmas party which was held in the fraternity house shortly before the school closed for the holidays. The annual Winter Formal was held in February at the Country Club, at which time the fraternity presented its Sweetheart, Miss Claudia Mahler. In March the members attended a party given in their honor by Miss Mahler. In April the fraternity invited the student body to take part in a Barn Dance which they held in the College Inn. The fraternity also assisted in preparing the social activities for the Azalea Debate Tournament. This year the fraternity has revived the practice of giving the Matt Rice trophy to the student who has done the most for Spring Hill College.

The Sodality started this year with a large increase of membership and a great variety of activities. Among the clubs organized were the Holy Name Club, the Sodality Social Club, the Mission Club, the Inter-racial Club, and the Catechetical Club. Among the major events sponsored by these were the college's participation in the Christ the King Parade, the annual October Living Rosary, the Student-Faculty Smokers, the Thanksgiving Dance, the pre-Christmas dinner and party, the annual "Sweetheart of Spring Hill" contest, as well as numerous spiritual projects.

The Inter-racial Club cooperated in the founding of the first Mobile Students' Inter-racial Council, and the Mission and Catechetical Clubs engaged in a catechetical work in conjunction with the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. The Mission Club also sponsored during the second semester a series of Friday night motion pictures in the College Inn for the purpose of affording entertainment on the campus and also of raising money for the missions.

The year's work came to a climax with the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Sodality at Spring Hill. A Solemn High Mass in the chapel on Sunday, May 4, with the May Crowning the same afternoon, and a Mass for deceased Spring Hill Sodalists on May

In keeping with the traditions of Spring Hill College, the bi-monthly campus paper renewed, in '46, its service of keeping the students informed of campus news and opinions.

Having been interrupted during the war years, the Springhillian is again endeavoring to present the student's viewpoint on current questions of a local, national and international nature. In its first post-war year it has shown a return of pre-war meritorious reporting, and intelligent presentation.

Assisted by the freshness of non-service talent and the maturity of returning veterans, the Springhillian is, and will continue to hold high "the torch" on the Hill.

Beta Alpha Chapter of Beta Beta Beta Biological Fraternity has the distinction of being the only national honorary fraternity on the campus. This biological fraternity, composed mainly of pre-medical and pre-dental students, is concerned primarily with the furtherance of research in Biology and its application in the medical field. It sponsors lectures by its members and prominent doctors and biologists. Among these programs, the Mendel Lecture is outstanding. This year it was given by Dr. Roy R. Kracke, dean of the medical school of the University of Alabama.

During the year several members of the chapter attended the Regional Convention of the Southeastern area at Chattanooga, Tennessee, along with their Moderator, Father Patrick H. Yancey, S.J., vice-president of the Southeastern division of Beta Beta Beta.

The official publication of the Beta Alpha Chapter is the Mendelian, which is published five times a year.

The social events consisted of banquets, picnics, and a fishing trip, thus providing entertainment and relaxation for the members this past season.

PORTEIR DEBATING ACADEMY

The purpose of this organization is to foster and promote the fine art of public speaking through the medium of both intra-Academy and inter-collegiate debating. It is from this group that the annual intercollegiate debating team of Spring Hill College is chosen.

Interrupted by the war, the Debators revived their activities in September of 1946 by having intra-Academy debates on the campus, and debates before social and civic groups in Mobile. The first outside activity was a discussion at the University of Alabama, which was attended by four members of the Academy. In December four other debaters represented Spring Hill at a debating tournament held at Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi.

The highlight of the debating season was the Azalea Debate Tournament held on the Spring Hill Campus in February. This tournament was conceived, planned and sponsored by the Portier Debaters. Seventeen different colleges and universities, represent-

Four debaters made a 2,000 mile trip through five states, debating at Auburn, Alabama College for Women, University of the South, Maryville College, and the University of South Carolina. An inter-collegiate debate was held on the college campus in April with Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas. This brought to a close the '46-'47 season which can surely be listed as the most successful in the Academy's history.

THE TORCH

In order that the student body might retain some of its treasured memories and scenes of its college years spent at Spring Hill, an energetic and vigorous committee proposed the rebirth of the Annual, which had not been published since 1941.

A relatively short time was permitted the Staff to prepare this edition. It is hoped that "THE TORCH" will be well received by the student body, and that it will do its part in kindling in the hearts of the students a feeling of loyalty and pride in the Alma Mater.

S-CLUB

The S-Club was recently revived as an active organization on the campus. It is composed of athletes who have earned at least one letter in some varsity sport conducted by the College. The purpose of this group is to promote sportsmanship-like manners among its members and to instill a spirit of goodfellowship toward their fellowmen.

MUSIC APPRECIATION

On Sunday evenings, in the Music Room of Byrne Library, a group of Springhillians gather for an hour of Music Appreciation. The chief articles of fare are lectures by the moderator, Mr. James Yamauchi, S.J., and the playing of recorded music on the Society's excellent record player. All meetings and auditions are open to the public.

SANCTUARY SOCIETY

With a firm resolution to serve God and obtain a better understanding of their faith, the members of St. John Berchman Sanctuary Society have made a fine showing this year. Though it meant losing a little extra sleep in the mornings these students took it upon themselves to assist the Priest in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. This aid and devotion to their faith is not only commendable but highly appreciated.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

First Row—McEvoy, Worsham, Butt, Murray, Cliett, Powers, Webb, Rowell, W. J. Norville, Hussey, Roberts, Harwood.
Second Row—Flanagan, Ratchford, Glynn, Harrison, Stoddard, Uruella, McGuire, McEvoy, Tremmel, Peresich, P. Boudreaux, Kenna, Murphy, Sweeney. Third Row—A. Boudreaux, Grove, Whalen, Millette, W. The Father Michael Kenny Council No. 3038 is the latest organization to take its place among the active groups on the campus.

This Catholic organization is to promote mutual aid and assistance to its members and to conduct such social and intellectual activities as deemed desirable and proper.

Chaplain O'Callahan, S.J., Receives The CMH

To broaden the cultural background of Spring Hill students, prominent leaders in the field of classics, medicine, politics and religion addressed the student body throughout the scholastic year. Under the direction of Rev. J. Franklin Murray, S.J., the Spring Hill Lecture Forum was host to the following notables: Ellis G. Arnall, Ex-governor of Georgia; Chaplain Joseph T. O'Callahan, S.J., recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor for meritorious service aboard the

AZALEA DEBATE

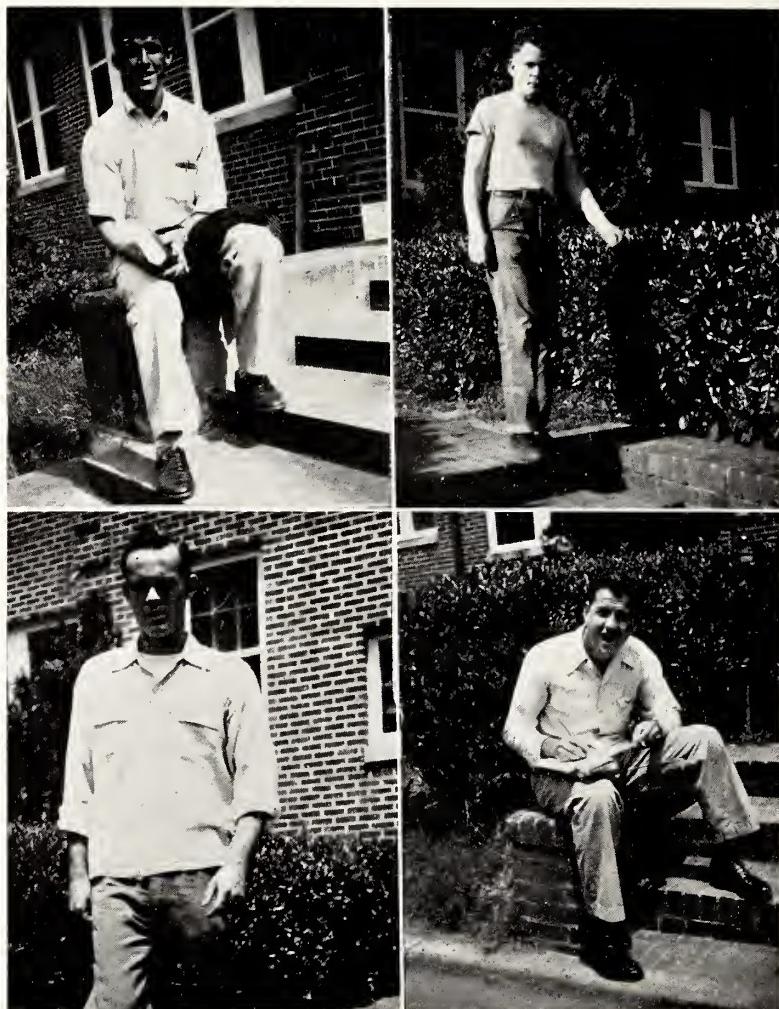

Spring Hill was host to seventeen colleges and universities at the annual Azalea Debate Tournament on February 14-15, 1947. The debate was based on the 1946-47 national intercollegiate topic: Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry. Portions of the contest were broadcast over a local network. Numerous campus social organizations furnished the visitors entertainment, including a yachting trip, a dance at the Admiral Semmes Hotel, and a visit to the famous Bellingrath Gardens.

TOURNAMENT

Participating schools were: Ouachita College, University of Florida, College of the Ozarks, University of Miami, St. Mary's University, Center College, Centenary College, Mercer University, Millsaps College, Louisiana College, Alabama College for Women, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, University of Mississippi, Mississippi Southern, Oklahoma City University, Johnson Bible College, and Ursuline College of Louisville, Kentucky. The University of Mississippi won top honors in the tournament.

POPULARITY WINNERS

As part of its function, the Springhillian sponsored its annual Popularity Contest for this school year.

For his outstanding achievements on the basketball and tennis courts, "Gorgeous George" Amsden won the "best athlete" award. While sparking the Badger cagemen to many victories, he became the nation's tenth highest scorer. On the clay, his brilliant performance helped the Hill netmen to achieve an impressive record for the year.

Ed Duffy's ability to win friends, enabled him to garner the "best personality" title. Throughout the year, he took an active part in Omicron Sigma Fraternity and the Sodality.

Rated as the "most serious" student on the campus, Dick Gaul made the Dean's List on several occasions during the year. The youthful New Englander plans to major in chemistry.

Tom Boyle, selected as the "most popular" student, will graduate in May with a BSC degree. During his four years, the "Chicago Kid" served on the Student Council and participated in many campus activities.

SOCIALS

During the academic year, many social activities were sponsored by various campus organizations.

On October 12 and December 14, the Veteran's Club held semi-formal dances at the Admiral Semmes Hotel. Jimmie Fondren and Buddy Buerger furnished the music for these two affairs.

The Winter Formal of the Omicron Sigma Fraternity was held at the Mobile Country Club on February 7. Tom Boyle and Miss Evelyn Bolton led the grand march. A Barn Dance took place in the College Inn on April 19.

After a long absence from the Hill Top, the Phi Omega Fraternity was reactivated during the year. A gala Spring Dance was given by the Phi O's on May 14 at the Pan American Club

At its outstanding function of the year, the Sigma Alpha Kappa Fraternity held a banquet on May 10, at the Admiral Semmes Hotel, honoring its newly-elected president, Jim Jumonville, and fellow officers.

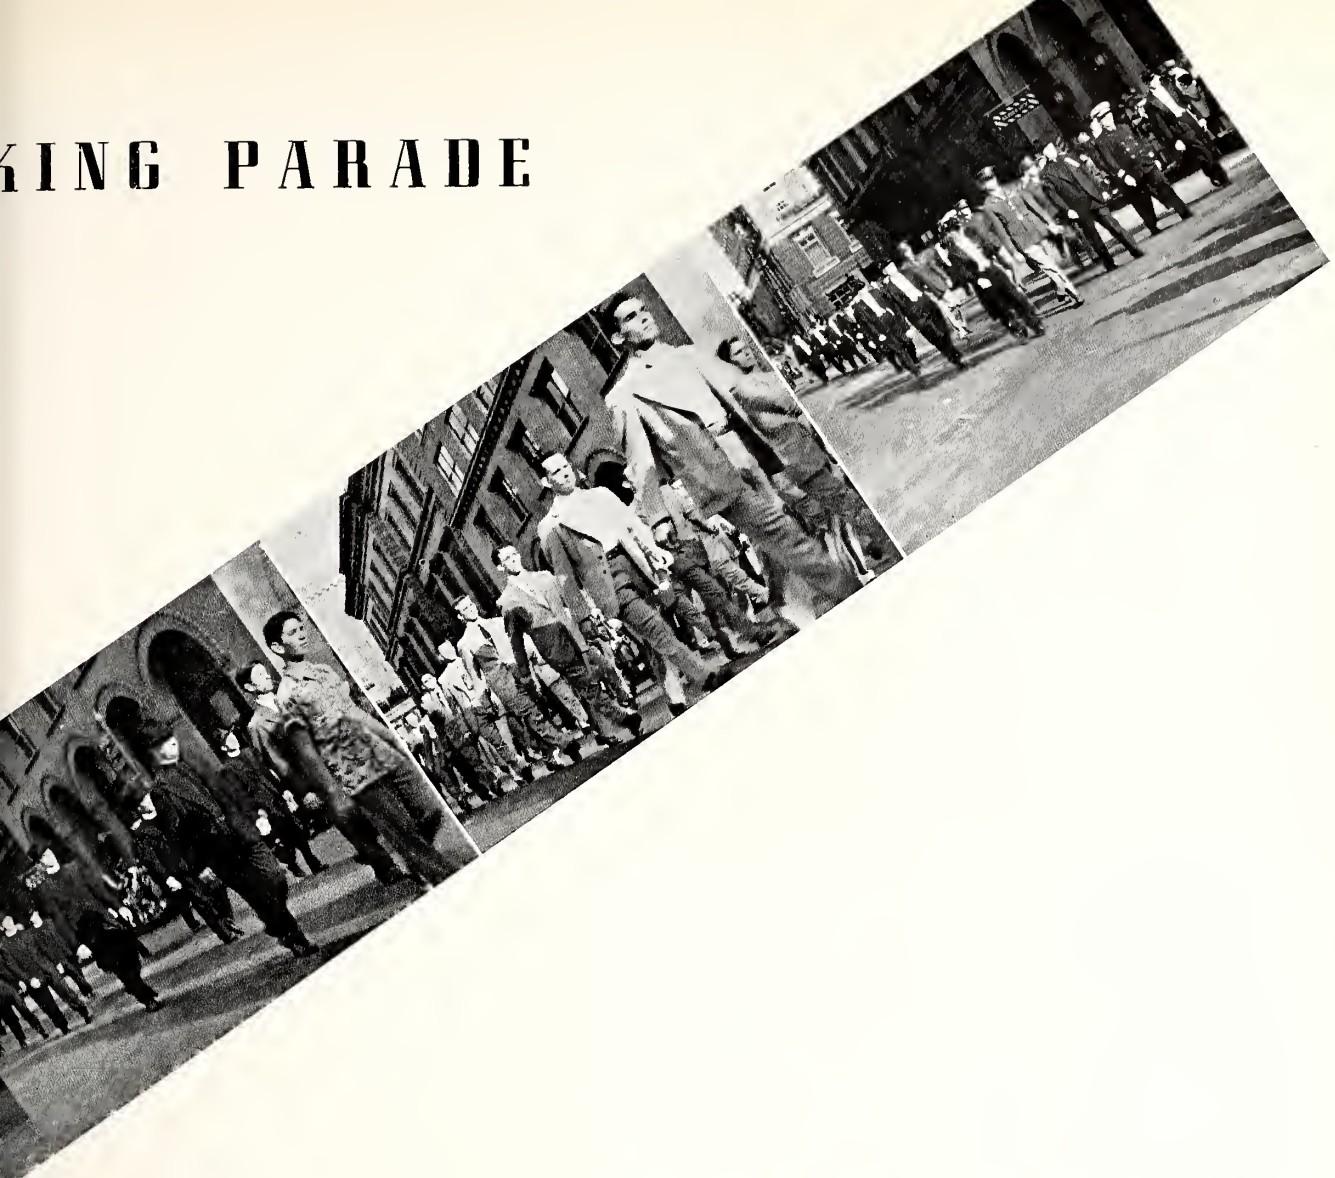

CHRIST TH

- Sponsored by the Holy Name Union of Mobile, the fourteenth annual procession honoring The Feast of Christ the King was held on October 27, 1946. Among the 20,000 participants in this gigantic ceremony were two units of the Spring Hill College Holy Name Union.

KING PARADE

- After the procession, religious services were held in Bienville Square, at which time recognition was given to several former chaplains who served in World War II. Rev. Patrick Donnelly, S.J., accepted a posthumous award for Chaplain Walter Felix, S.J., a former instructor at Spring Hill, who died while in service.

FINIS CORONAT OPUS

AS the year draws to a close there goes forth from the "Hill" another group of trained men — Spring Hill-trained men. They have been trained in the liberal arts and in the sciences: in the arts towards appreciation, in the sciences towards integration. They are Chesterton's "theoretical men", best suited to be of "practical" service to today's topsy-turvy world.

It was for these graduates, primarily, that THE TORCH was published. In years to come it will bring forth familiar faces, happy memories, and perhaps new inspirations. It is the desire of "the staff" that the yearbook will thus serve in some small way to unite all generations of Springhillians.
